Recently-minted Web Developer with a genuine affection for elegant and user-oriented coding. Possesses a track record of numerous successful projects, such as an MVC-oriented fully-functional job aggregator, a WeatherApp providing current and future weather forecasts in cities, and a fully routed NoteTaker app deployed on Heroku. Looking forward to provide a jolly and detail-oriented attitude to the workplace. To-be graduate of the University of Texas' Full-Stack Web Development Bootcamp.
